(vs. 1) You're a dove that's been sleeping in the dirt

With a heart for the poor, and a hand for the hurt

And you cry for all your friends,

Cause you're the only one who still feels

(ch. 1) I want to know a person like you

Who's not afraid to love the wicked and the poor

I want to know a person like you

Who's not afraid to touch crooked and the whore

(vs. 2) You're a lamb wearing thorns for a crown

While your words of peace, are bigger than sound

And you hurt for all your friends

Cause you're the only one who still feels

You're not afraid of me...

(ch. 2) I want to know a person like you

Who's not afraid to love the sick and divorced

I want to know a person like you

Who's not afraid to touch user and the falling apart
